MEMBRES

La route des membres, a Via Prévention initiative, was created to grow the collaboration between the association and its members, to advise more companies, and to support more administrators responsible for occupational health and safety. The advisors of Via Prévention are dedicated to helping members accomplish their prevention mission.

Make the most of our services.
You are a member.

You are entitled, at no cost, to all consulting and technical assistance services provided by our prevention advisor – a specialist in the field of transportation and storage – and to our research initiatives. You also enjoy preferential rates for training (about 25% of the non-member price, and no charge for the instructor's travel expenses) and for printed documents (a discount of more than 50%).

Your mission

Our mission

To comply with laws and regulations

With its knowledge and experience, Via Prévention helps your company to comply with the obligations of existing occupational health and safety laws.

Do you understand the occupational health and safety law?

Are you aware of the obligations of heavy vehicle operators?

Can you list the standards that affect your business?

To manage risks

Do you know the risks your colleagues and employees face each day?

In what ways could they injure themselves at work?

What can you do to ensure that everyone avoids accidents?

Your advisor can help identify risks likely to cause accidents in the workplace (falls, back pains, road traffic injuries...)

The advisor's role is to show you how to try to eliminate risks at the source and control them to minimize work-related injuries.

To train your workers in OHS

Which training courses are most relevant to the prevention of accidents in your workplace?

How frequent should they be? Who should take them?

Do workers need personalized training?

How to find the instructor that's right for you?

A Via Prévention advisor will evaluate your training needs and suggest courses that are relevant to workplace tasks. The advisor is also a qualified instructor who can train your workers.

To ensure results

How do you ensure that your prevention measures yield tangible results?

Are safety tips being followed?

Have you noticed behavioural changes in the workers?

Are they adopting more prudent work habits?

The advisor works with you to develop the monitoring methods that best suit you: for example, helping you create and lead an occupational health and safety committee.
